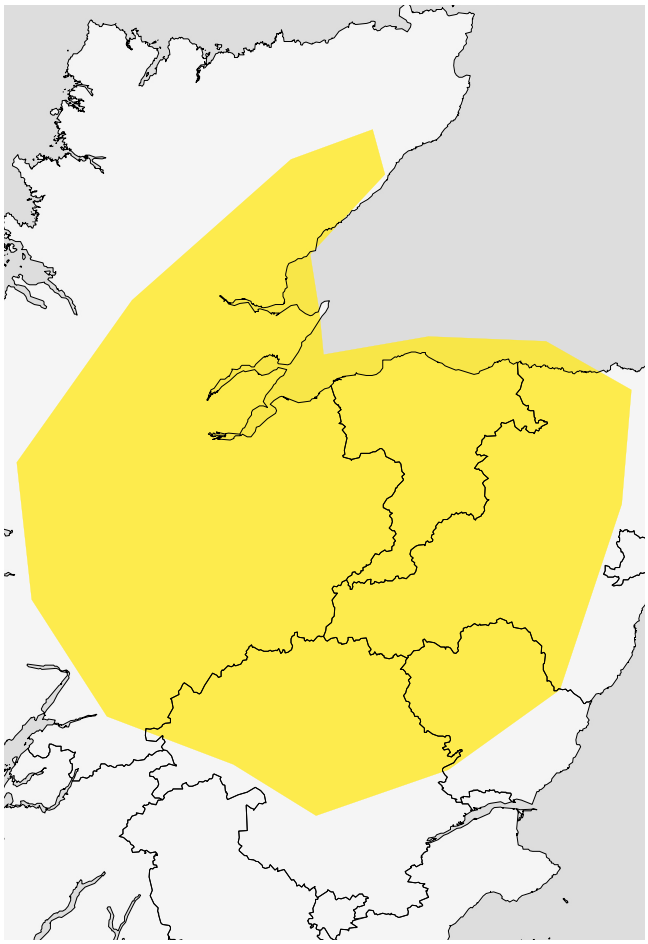
Yellow warning
Snow

Between
03:00 Mon 24 Feb 2020 and
22:00 Mon 24 Feb 2020



Snow may bring disruption, especially on high ground.

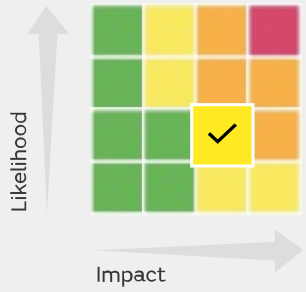
What to expect

- Possible travel delays on roads stranding some vehicles and passengers
- Possible delays or cancellations to rail and air travel
- Some rural communities could become cut off
- Power cuts may occur and other services, such as mobile phone coverage, may be affected

Further details

Snow is expected to spread northeastwards into Scotland early on Monday, perhaps even falling to low levels during the morning rush hour across and to the south of the Central Belt of Scotland, before spreading northwards into the rest of the warning area.

Across the south of the warning area, snow may turn to rain during the afternoon, but further north, and especially on higher routes above 200 metres, significant accumulations of snow may occur during the afternoon and evening. Here, 2 to 4 cm snow is likely above 100 to 200 metres whilst above 300 to 400 metres 5 to 10 cm snow may build up.



Low likelihood of medium impacts
